4th Nuke Ever deployed by Warden Forces!

22/01/2019

On the 22nd of January the fourth ever missile was launched by a Coalition Force of [WNS], [WN], [82DK], (ASS), [REKT].

This Missile then carried itself into Occupied Warden Territory and destroyed the Townhall at Deeplaw Post in the Heartlands, denying the Invaders a position of strength and furthering the War Effort into the eternal favour of the Warden Empire.

After the Medical Personnel arrived at the scene of the explosion over thirty-four casualties were reported and Ten injured on the side of Colonials.

"From my perspective the attack was a overwhelming success more so if you take in to account that a big chunk of the guards man assigned to it are fairly green to the Korps. They have shown great potential and I was very happy to see them gladly giving there lives for the Emperor with such conviction. As the designated infantry for the operation we have secured the area needed for the triangulation of the target."

Our combat pioneers successful deploying multiple fortifications that denied the colonials access for enough time so i could finish sending the date to our launch site in Weathered Expanse. Furthermore our Death Riders reinforced the combat efficiently of our regular guardsman's while the mechanized assistance from our allies provided crucial fire support. "
